

Son Trío, are Su Garrido Pombo (voice), Katerina Linke (piano, composition) and Susanna Blanco (cello). Their musical project Miña Almiña is based on the poems of Galician national poet Rosalía de Castro; a cycle of original musical compositions that are both romantic and delicate with touches of jazz.

Miña Almiña is a seamless merging of poems from Rosalía's Follas Novas (New Leaves), with a classical musical interpretation. The composition embodies a contemporary musical language that gives flight to these 19th Century poems as if they were written today.

The three members of Son Trío have ample experience and numerous awards in their individual musical careers. They have combined their musical talents to create this project that has already been chosen as a finalist in the National Martín Códax Awards.

Son Trío rounds off its repertoire with new versions of popular classics and compositions around some of the finest contemporary poets writing in Galicia today. Su's sweet, wild and expressive voice is attentive to every nuance of the poem; the deep, rich timbre of Susana's cello and the tender and sensitive compositions of Katerina's piano carry their public away on a moving and emotional journey.
